

Holiday Greetings from the Hanks!!

Jeff,

For all of my life, I have been a do-it-your-selfer. I made my boat, I built a cabin at Brianhead, I did my own landscaping at my home. Although all these projects became quite functional, they all lacked beauty and reflected utilitarianism.

For once in my life, I wanted to do something that was truly first class and artistic. I am so happy for your efforts in my behalf. Your abilities have given me an emancipation from the do-it-your-self products that have characterized my creative attempts. You have become a part of my life and that will be there into the eternities.

All the season's best and brightest joys
to you and yours!

Best Wishes for Happy Holidays

Stephen Hanks

I know this Ham can no way measure up to the delightful cookies!!
